Important review note

This document is an original website publication draft prepared for Vitality Personnel Ltd. It is not legal advice. Before publication or operational adoption, the company should confirm that the text reflects its actual processes, suppliers, systems and contractual arrangements, and obtain review from an appropriately qualified UK legal or compliance professional.

1 Scope and document status

A clear explanation of essential cookies and how optional choices are controlled. This document should be read with applicable contracts, procedures and privacy information.

2 What cookies are

Cookies and similar storage technologies are small data items used by websites to remember information or support a service.

3 Essential cookies

Essential cookies may be used for security, session continuity, accessibility and remembering the user's privacy choice. They are necessary for requested website functions and are not used to create advertising profiles.

4 Optional analytics and marketing

Optional analytics or marketing technologies should remain disabled unless and until the visitor chooses them and the company has configured the relevant services. The live cookie inventory must be updated whenever a new tool is introduced.

5 Managing your choice

Visitors can use the Cookie settings control on the website to accept or reject optional categories and can change that choice later. Browser controls may also delete or block cookies, although this can affect essential functionality.

6 Current configuration

At the date of this draft, the intended configuration uses essential storage for consent preferences. Any platform analytics, embedded media or third-party service must be reviewed before launch so that its cookies, duration, provider and purpose are accurately disclosed.
